The Form

Parts I and III are comprised of lines 1-13 and 18-30, respectively. These sections are employee information and other covered individuals (if the employer-provided self-insured coverage).

Additionally, the most recent 1095-C now requires specific codes for employers offering individual coverage health reimbursement agreements (ICHRA), so you will see additional codes referenced here that you may have been previously unfamiliar with.

Here is a brief overview of ICHRA so you can determine if these codes apply to your organization:

What is Individual Coverage Health Reimbursement Arrangement (ICHRA)?

- An HRA is a type of account-based health plan that employers can use to reimburse employees for their medical care expenses
- An ICHRA is an HRA integrated with individual health insurance coverage or Medicare

- o Requires employees and any covered dependents to be enrolled in individual health insurance coverage or Medicare in order to receive reimbursements for medical care expenses, including premiums

How does an ICHRA work?

- Employer sets an allowance amount for employees
- Employee buys health insurance policy
- Employee submits proof of purchase of medical expense
- Employer reimburses employee

Form 1095-C (2020)

Part II

Line 14 – Offer of Coverage

Line 14 specifies the type of coverage, if any, offered to an employee, spouse and dependents. The code must indicate the coverage the employee was offered; however, it may not match the coverage in which the employee is actually enrolled. For example, if an employee is offered family coverage but enrolls in employee-only coverage, Line 14 must indicate that the employee was offered family coverage. A code must be entered for each calendar month even if the employee was not a full-time employee for one or more months. Alternatively, the "All 12 Months" box may be completed if the same offer applies to all 12 months.

Line 15 – Employee Required Contribution

Enter the amount of the Employee Required Contribution, which is, generally, the employee share of the monthly cost for the lowest cost, self-only minimum essential coverage (MEC) providing minimum value (MV) that is offered to the employee. This amount may not equal the amount the employee is actually paying for coverage. For example, an employee enrolls in family coverage with a monthly premium of $250.00. The monthly premium for employee-only coverage is $150.00 which is the amount that should be entered in Line 15. For an employee offered an individual coverage HRA (ICHRA), the Employee Required Contribution is the excess of the monthly premium for the applicable lowest cost silver plan based on the employee's applicable age over the monthly ICHRA amount. For additional rules on determining the amount of the Employee Required Contribution, including cases in which an employer makes available certain cafeteria plan contributions, wellness program incentives, and opt-out payments, see Notice 2015-87.

Line 16 – Section 4980H Safe Harbor and Other Relief

Line 16 provides an opportunity for an employer to indicate an exception to a penalty. Completing this line is optional; however, it is in the employer's best interest to provide the information if it is applicable.

- If 2E and any other Code Series 2 applies, enter 2E
- If 2C and any other Code Series 2 applies other than Code 2E, enter 2C. (Exception: Do not enter code 2C when a terminated employee is enrolled in COBRA or other post-employment coverage; enter 2A.)
- If 2B and 2D apply, enter 2D

Line 17 – Zip Code

If the employer offers an ICHRA to an employee, enter the appropriate ZIP code used for identifying the lowest cost silver plan used to calculate the Employee Required Contribution in line 15. This will be the ZIP code of the employee's residence (code 1L, 1M, or (code 1O, 1P, or 1Q).

Location safe harbor for ICHRA's. An employer may use the cost of self-only coverage for the lowest cost silver plan for the employee for self-only coverage offered through the Exchange where the employee's primary site of employment is located for determining whether an offer of an ICHRA to a full-time employee is affordable.
